SOMMELIER'S BIN

- $75 -

As we update our wine list and clean up our cellar, we always find "orphaned bottles" of odds and ends GREAT wine. Rather than keeping them all to ourselves we would rather pass on the value to you, our guest, by creating a "grab bag" called the "Sommelier's Bin."

Each wine (all red) from the Bin is $75, which reflects an up to fifty percent reduction from the wine's former list price. The catch? The wine will remain a "mystery" until presented, and cherry-picking from the Bin is not allowed. As an indication of the level of caliber of the Bin wines here are a few examples of the goodies we found recently: Freemark Abbey Bousche, Silver Oak, and Hess Collection.

QUALITY WINE

2006 - $129

2008 - $99

When we opened Quality Meats (QM) in 2006 we launched with a vision to feature our own private label red wine to complement our menu. That commitment led to the creation of our very own "Quality Wine."

The 2006 Quality Wine, our sophomore cuvée, is a claret-style blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Cabernet Franc, crafted by Napa upstart Cliff Lede Winery.

For our 2008 Quality Wine we partnered with Lapostolle, owned by Grand Marnier heiress Alexandra Marnier Lapostolle. The wine is crafted by enologist Michel Roland, and is a blend of Cabernet, Merlot, Carmenere and Syrah, using the choicest grapes from Clos Apalta Vineyard.

Another unique feature of the Quality Wine project is our commitment to partner with women-owned or female winemakers, as we aim to forge a new and one-of-a-kind steak house tradition at QM. Cheers!

DALLE VALLE

Founded in 1986 by Gustav & Naoko Dalle Valle, the small family vineyard makes 2 legendary world class wine – their signature Cabernet Sauvignon, which is blended with a small amount of Cab Franc; and Maya, which is a blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc – from the small and remarkable vineyard that bears its name.

MEAT MARKET

If there were any cardinal rules in our "Meats and Potatoes" business, the phrase "Steak goes best with Cabernet" would probably be one of them. This may be true when our founder, Alan Stillman opened Smith & Wollensky in the 1970's, when his cellar might be limited by what was available in the market back then. However, much has happened in the world of wine since then. So this begs the question: Is this Steak=Cab rule still the golden rule?

In this section named "Meat Market," our team had hand-picked a short but diverse list of wines out of the Cabernet domain, which we believe will go well with steak. So are you ready to drop its traditional partner, and find a new mate to tango with your beef tonight?

Tinto Pesquera 2008 Ribera Del Duero, Spain 68

Although wine production in Ribera del Duero consisted of simple rosé wines and garnacha, the region did not receive much attention until the '70s, when Alejandro Fernandez founded his bodega Pesquera and started to make red wines from Tempranillo in a more concentrated, and fruit-driven style. This wine, well-received both in Spain and by many international wine critics practically put wines of this region on the map.

LeLuSi 2004 Aglianico del Vulture Basilicata, Italy 69

The name LeLuSi originated from the beginning of each of the siblings names – Letizia, Luca and Simona. Comparable to some of Italy's best reds, Aglianico is an important grape in the Campania and Basilicata region. With a rich texture and complex flavors, Aglianico is full bodied with firm tannins and pairs great with lamb.

Viader 2009 Cabernet Franc Napa 75

Impressed by the wines of Chateau Cheval Blanc, Della Viader is always "daring to be different". With a leading hand from family friend Michael Rolland, the Viader estate is now ran by her four children and pet clan. Viader was also the winery that made the first ever Quality Wine, now on its third vintage.

Langtry 2006 Petit Sirah Guenoc Valley, California 77

Petite Sirah, a.k.a Petite Syrah or Durif, is historically referred to a small berried clone of the Syrah grape by Rhône growers. Langtry is one of California's leading producers of Petite Sirah in both volume and quality. Their namesake, Lillie Langtry, was a flamboyant British theatre star who purchased the property in 1888 producing wines portraying her likeness on the glass.

Grgic 2007 Plavic Mali Croatia 99

This is the "home project" of Napa's Grgich Hill Estates, whose founder Miljenko "Mike" Grgich hails from Croatia. It was Mike that first recognized the potential lineage between Zinfandel and his native Plavic Mali grape, which had since been scientifically proven.

Jean Luc Colombo 2005 "Terres Brûlées" Cornas, Rhone 109

A native of Marseilles, Colombo first developed a strong admiration for the wines of the Rhone Valley in the late 1970s as a pharmacy student. A devotee of the Syrah grape, Colombo was convinced that the Northern Rhône appellation of Cornas offered enormous and, at the time, unrecognized potential for producing super-quality Syrah wines.

M. Chapoutier 2008 "La Bernadine" Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Rhône 115

"The wine was born from heaven & earth...of love." For generations in Rhône Valley, the Chapoutier family has been producing great wines biodynamically to respect the terroir. Their aim is to always convey the same love of wine, and to give people a chance to discover its diversity. All their labels are also in Braille since 1996.

Linne Calodo 2008 "Rising Tides" Syrah/Grenache/Mourvèdre Paso Robles 119

With wines labeled Problem Child, Nemesis and Outsider, winemaker Matt Trevisan shows not only an independent streak but a dry sense of humor. One of the pioneers of West Paso, Trevisan makes blends of Zinfandel, Syrah, Mourvèdre and Grenache. Like the oceans of the world, Rising Tides changes on a daily basis: one minute you find yourself savoring new world flavors, while the next you are experiencing an onslaught of old world minerality.

Magdalena Toso "33" 2005 "Las Barrancas" Red Blend California 175

While honing his skills of winemaking at Opus One, Paul Hobbs had learned to make exciting, structured wines that are rooted in classic old world techniques, yet distinctly Californian in their expression. His thrill of helping spark an Argentine winemaking revolution has brought worldwide attention and prestige to the region. This wine is the result of a shared dream between Paul Hobbs and Roland Luppino, using the best selection of 33 best oak barrels of Malbec.

Bertani 2003 Amarone Veneto 218

Amarone – the name means big, bitter one – is a rich Italian red wine made from partially dried Corvina, Rondinella and Molinara grapes spread on bamboo mats creating an opulent, full bodied wine with high alcohol content. For generations, the soul of Bertani wine has been learning from tradition, and making sure that Bertani remains part of the history of the Verona area and of the culture of wine.
